DISCLOSURE OF RELEVANT FINANCIAL RELATIONSHIPS WITH INELIGIBLE COMPANIES:

The Brody School of Medicine at East Carolina University, the accredited provider of this activity, endorses the Standards of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) that require planners, faculty, reviewers, and others who will control educational content for the education activity to disclose relationships with ineligible companies. The ACCME defines an ineligible company as any entity whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients.

Financial relationships are relevant if the following three conditions are met for the individual who will control content of the education:

- A financial relationship, in any amount, exists between the person in control of content and an ineligible company.
- The financial relationship existed during the past 24 months.
- The content of the education is related to the products of an ineligible company with whom the person has a financial relationship.
